GIFT APPRECIATED BY THE RED CROSS

A case of surgical instruments sent to the National Red Cross association by Dr. A. S. Condon of Ogden as a gift to the cause of humanity, in May, 1916, is now being used on the European battle front. The act of the physician was not publicly known until yesterday when it was announced through a resolution and preamble adopted at the meeting of the local Red Cross organization, of which Dr. Condon is a member.

The resolution, which includes a letter of appreciation to Dr. Condon from Marion Alger, representative of the Red Cross association at Paris, France, follows:

"With characteristic thoughtfulness and generosity, Dr. Amasa S. Condon, an esteemed member of our Red Cross society, sent a case of surgical instruments to the National Red Cross for the use of their representatives on the European battle front. The letter acknowledging the gift reads as follows:

"GROSSE POINTE FARMS
"My Dear Mr. Condon:
"Your very fine case of instruments arrived, and your very nice letter. It makes it a pleasure for me to do this work to get such a generous response and encouragement. I am sending the case immediately and I am sure within a month they will be in use. Some of the hospitals I visited were without instruments, so you can see what a case like yours will mean.

"With many thanks, I remain
"Yours very sincerely
(Signed) "MARION ALGER.

"The Red Cross society of Ogden, feeling that such thoughtfulness should not pass unnoticed, asks that your committee take such action as will express the appreciation of the society that one of its members should act with so much appreciation

BOYS ON BORDER ARE PLEASED WITH HOME CANDY

In camp of the First Provisional Regiment of Cavalry on the Mexican border, near Nogales, Arizona, Sept. 20, 1916:

"To the Editor of the Ogden Standard:—Dear Sir:—Troop 'B' of Ogden are the recipients of a shipment of 107 pounds of candy and four boxes of Spearmint gum. The same being a gift of patriotic and generous-hearted citizens of Five Points, and through the columns of your worthy paper we desire to express our thanks to the donors and assure them that their thoughtfulness did not go unappreciated. Candy and other sweets are none so sweet as those that come from home, and every last piece was devoured with a relish. The shipment was received in good condition and was consigned to Sergt. O. N. Sherwood, who labored industriously late into the night until the lot was equally weighed into 76 paper bags distributed to as many eager troopers, and the next morning at 7 o'clock the troop was ordered to Buena Vista Ranch for patrol duty and each member of the troop carried his precious bag of sweets along, the same being safely stowed away in his saddle bags. It is true that some of the lemon drops stuck to the peppermint sticks, but the flavor was there even after an all day and night ride, and up to the present writing we still leave the sweetest lot of saddle bags in the regiment. And now for miles east and west along the international boundary can be found fragments of Shupe-Williams' butter scotch wrappers. Even the horses partook of the "goodies" and still nose around our shirt pockets for more.

"We do not forget the spirit in which the candy was sent. So on our behalf of the entire troop, we, the undersigned members, wish to thank all who contributed toward the purchase and also the person whose generosity prompted the same.

"Respectfully,
(Signed)
"SERGT. G. R. LAURENCE,
"SERGT. D. A. SCOTT,
"CORP. CHICK LEAVITT,
"SERGT. H. RICHARDS."

ENGINE MEN EXONERATED.

Pocahontas, Idaho, Sept. 26.—An inquiry was held yesterday afternoon before Dr. F. H. Poole to inquire into the death of Ferdinand Heberlin, who was instantly killed when his automobile was struck by a locomotive at the crossing near Lava Hot Springs Sunday evening. The jury brought in a verdict of accidental death, exonerating Engineer Openshaw and Fireman Stout, who were in charge of the engine, which was running light and at a speed of about 30 miles an hour. John Heberlin, Mrs. Jessie Heberlin, Elizabeth Heberlin, their infant child, Isaac Petrie, Mrs. Mary Petrie and their 4-year-old daughter, who were the other occupants of the car, were reported by Dr. E. N. Roberts of the Short Line to be doing nicely, with the exception of Mrs. Petrie, who is in a precarious condition from cerebral hemorrhage.

MEN WHO ESCAPED ARE RECAPTURED

Sheriff W. O. Pratt and Chief Deputy W. C. Edwards of Cassia county, Idaho, arrived at the Weber county jail last night with Evan Maughn and Earl Bailey in custody, and today departed for Albion to reincarcerate the prisoners who had escaped from the Albion jail, where they had been held on a grand larceny charge.

Maughn, alias Clyde Rhybolinger, is 21 years old. He formerly resided at Logan and at one time was an inmate of the Utah State Industrial

ANOTHER EXCELLENT PANTAGES SHOW

For real comedy and novelty, the present week's bill at the Pantages theatre fills the contract splendidly. It is strictly an all-comedy bill and, as such, will have a week of noisy success. From musical comedy to farce playlet, the program is a winner. Headlining the bill is a musical comedy, "The Elopers," a melodious, sparkling, light comedy production, handsomely staged and costumed, with dancing and singing above the average of the vaudeville tabloid. With Teddy and Nellie McNamara, Jessie Maker and Charles Lammers as the four principals of the company, the tuneful song hits are in capable hands. The chorus consists of six stunning, beautiful girls, who wear handsome, artistic gowns and dance in a most graceful manner. The number is bright and breezy from start to finish.

Homer Dickinson and Gracie Deagon, late of "The Candy Shop," win with refreshing comedy in a little singing and a bit of graceful stepping. Dickinson has an engaging personality and is a natural comedian. Miss Deagon is distinctly pleasing in her impersonation of a child and gives some decidedly original conceptions to Pantages enthusiasts this week.

Florence Rayfield, fair as a lily and light as a butterfly, wins a generous share of applause with her dainty, alluring ways. Her wide song repertoire is hard to beat and Ogden audiences will be given a treat both in the way of excellent singing and also by her handsome array of pretty frocks.

A novel incident of the theatrical life is given by Davett and Duval in their bright little comedy skit, entitled "Holding Out." They appear as actors out of a job, and the farce ends in one jolly scream.

Two black-face artists who are in reality fine musicians when they quit their nonsense and get down to business are La Zar and Dale. But their nonsense is so delightful that the audience continually calls for more. Their travesty musical number is a riot of ragtime and fun. La Zar gets real music out of the piano while going through some extraordinary antics.

Will Morris opens the bill, yet he makes one of the biggest hits of the week. In his tramp make-up he fools with a bicycle until he has the audience in a regular uproar; then he pulls one or two startling tricks.

Mutt and Jeff will entertain again in a new comedy to complete the bill. The first performance will be tomorrow afternoon.—Adv.

EVA TANGUAY GETS THE CROWDS

Wherever Eva Tanguay has appeared, and this by the way is her first appearance in the far west, she has broken every theatre record for business. This is a gentle hint to those who will want to witness her remarkable activities at the Orpheum theatre, Thursday, October 5, to be in line early or to feel keen disappointment over the fact that they have missed her. Seat sale opens Monday.

It is a remarkable tribute to the genius of this girl that she is a great hit with her own sex. Perhaps it is that cute little dash of devilishness that makes her a sort of Satanist idol of femininity. Her personal charm appeals to them, and this can be said truly of very few women of the stage today. It is one of the elements of her tremendous success, and they are many.—Adv.

LIGHTING OF CIGARET CAUSES AUTOMOBILE TO BURN

The lighting of a cigaret in close proximity to the gasoline tank of an automobile yesterday evening caused an explosion that set the car afire and damaged it to the extent of approximately $300. William Murray, driver of the automobile, which belonged to the Fell Auto Livery company, is alleged to have lit the cigaret.

The fire occurred at the automobile service station at 26th street and Washington avenue shortly after 6 o'clock. Murray had driven the car into the station to obtain a supply of gasoline. While the rear tank of the automobile was being filled, the chauffeur, it is alleged, stood nearby and lighted a cigarette. The flame immediately ignited the gasoline and in an instant the rear and top of the car was afire. It was pushed out of the station before the flames could spread to the gasoline pump. With a couple of tanks of chemical, an employee of the station extinguished the blaze before the arrival of the fire department. The automobile will require a new top, rear seat, two new tires and re-painting.

DETECTIVES ON MURDER MYSTERY

New York Garage Owner and Supposed Wife Shot in a Philadelphia Hotel.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 27.—The woman who shot and killed J. C. Graveur of New York, seriously wounded his female companion and then, committed suicide in a prominent hotel here today, has been identified as Mrs. Harry Belzer of 315 Euclid avenue, New York, by a sister of the dead man. This sister, whose name is Mrs. Frances Apman, came here today with Harry V. Fancey of New York, a business partner of Graveur, and made the identification at the morgue.

Mrs. Apman told the police Mrs. Belzer's maiden name was Margaret McAndrews and that the woman had not been living with her husband recently. Graveur, she also told the police, was a widower and had been very friendly with Mrs. Belzer.

From cards found in Mrs. Belzer's hand bag the police at first believed she was Mrs. J. C. Le Dur or Le Duc. The wounded woman in the hospital, at first supposed to be Graveur's wife, had not made any statement. Mrs. Apman will go to the hospital later in the day to see if she can identify her.

Philadelphia, Sept. 27.—A score of detectives today were endeavoring to solve the mystery surrounding the shooting of J. C. Graveur, president of the Alhambra garage of New York, and his wife in their apartments at a prominent hotel here early this morning by Mrs. J. C. Le Dur, who afterward committed suicide with the same revolver. Graveur was instantly killed and his wife is in a hospital believed to be mortally wounded. No motive for the tragedy has yet been established.

The wounded woman in the hospital refuses to say anything regarding the shooting nor will she confirm statements that she is the wife of Graveur. Dispatches from New York state that employees at Graveur's garage said they believed that he was a widower. Information from New York is to the effect that Graveur and the woman he registered at the hotel as his wife had been in Atlantic City last week, and in Washington two or three days ago.

Woman in Critical Condition.
The injured woman's condition still is considered a critical.

The name of the woman who did the shooting, it was said by the police, may be Mrs. Joseph Clarence Le Duc and not Le Dur.

The police learned from a woman guest at the hotel that Mrs. Le Dur waited a long while in the hotel cor-

PHONOGRAPH NOW SPREADS FIRE ALARM

A fire alarm apparatus that calls "central," telling her in a calm, dispassionate mechanical voice that the factory of Smith-Jones Co. is in flames and to please call the fire brigade immediately is the proposal of an English inventor. A phonograph, with its horn close to the mouthpiece of a telephone is fitted with a record bearing the fire warning. The phonograph starts when an electric magnet placed near it draws down the releasing lever.

The circuit of which the magnet is a part is closed by an automatic switch which is held by a cord. A fire burns the cord.
